Data Network Information

The Iowa State data network serves all campus buildings including Residence Halls and University Family Housing. Users can access on-campus resources such as the Library, Acropolis, and college/department servers. High bandwidth Internet connectivity is also provided. Remote access services are available to the off-campus community utilizing PPP to support applications such as telnet and web browsing.

Connecting to the Campus Network from the Residence Halls

To use Ethernet, you will need the following:

Ethernet Card (unless your computer has a built-in Ethernet connector). Ethernet cards and cables are available in the Microcomputer Product Center (MPC), 191 Durham Center, or through computer dealers. Items purchased through MPC can be charged to your university account. The Telecommunications Office supports 10BaseT connections in the residence halls.

Communications Software Once your computer hardware is set up for Ethernet, you will need to configure network connectivity software. Assistance is available in the Solution Center, 195 Durham Center, 296-6000.

Connecting to the Campus Network from University Family Housing (UFH)

DSL service is available in each University Family Housing (University Village and Schilleter Village) apartment. DSL is an always-on network connection operating at speeds of 1Mbps. DSL uses the existing telephone wiring. It provides a connection directly to the campus LAN with full access to the Internet.

To use DSL, you will need the following:

Ethernet Card (unless your computer has a built-in Ethernet connector). Ethernet cards (10BaseT) and cables are available in the Microcomputer Product Center (MPC), 191 Durham Center, or through computer dealers. Items purchased through MPC can be charged to your university account.

Communications Software Once your computer hardware is set up for Ethernet, you will need to configure network connectivity software. Assistance is available in the Solution Center, 195 Durham Center, 296-6000.

NOTE

Lightning may damage equipment connected to a power source or a communications jack. The Telecommunications Office is not liable for damage caused by electrical storms. Surge protectors will not guarantee protection. We recommend that you disconnect both the power cord and communications cable during electrical storms.

PPP: Connecting to ISU from Off-Campus

Access to the campus computers and the Internet from your home computer is available through ISU PPP service. Through ISU PPP, users may use email, surf the web, use instant messaging, and download files at speeds up to 56K.

We specialize in answers about getting connected to the network at ISU, which can be anything from requesting PPP service to getting help with site-licensed software and virus protection. The Solution Center also assists with e-mail and passwords. The Solution Center offers handouts and advice if you want to set up your computer on your own, or you can make an appointment with the SNAP team.

Contact the Solution Center by telephone at 515-296-6000; by e-mail at solution@iastate.edu; or in person in 195 Durham Center. Hours are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. On the Web, look for us at <http://www.ait.iastate.edu/help/>.

SNAP Team - (Getting Connected)

The Student Network Access Project (SNAP) is here to assist students who want to get connected to the campus network. An assistant can go to your on-campus residence to help install an Ethernet card in your computer, configure the card, and help load the networking software. The team also has a drop-off service in the Solution Center, 195 Durham Center. You may leave your machine with the SNAP team and have the setup done there. Off-campus students can also drop off machines to have the computer and modem set up to connect to the campus network through the PPP dial-up service.

SNAP is funded by your student computer fee so there is no charge for standard service. Contact the SNAP team by telephone at 515-296-6000.

Wireless

Wireless networking is a method of connecting a computer to the network using radio signals instead of traditional wires. There are two primary components involved in a wireless network: an access point and a wireless access card. The access point utilizes traditional wired Ethernet for the uplink to the network. It then transmits and receives radio signals in its immediate area to communicate with wireless access cards. The access points are typically installed in high locations to improve the coverage area and decrease interference. The wireless access cards are similar to Ethernet cards, but with a built-in radio that communicates with the access points. They are most useful in mobile devices such as laptops and PDAs.

Visit the Telecommunications Web site, <http://www.tele.iastate.edu> for an updated wireless map as well as locations listed by building and room. Telecommunications will continue to expand the wireless network on campus in public areas and classrooms. Please check the Web site frequently for updates.

Student Alphabetical Listings

Information in the student section of the university campus directory is taken from data supplied by the students to the university prior to September 9, 2003. Students who do not wish to have directory information published must file notice in the Office of the Registrar within the first 10 calendar days after the beginning of the fall semester. The university assumes that failure on the student's part to specifically request withholding directory information indicates the student's approval for the disclosure.
